b. As requested by the Executive Director, the DDA established a task force to work under the guidance of the Office of Information Services in searching for examples of leaks attributable to materials written by former government officials. The information is to be used by the National Security Council and the Department of Justice in negotiating with Congress on the prepublication review requirement of NSDD-84. Each Directorate, the Office of Security, and the Public Affairs Office were requested to assist in forming the task force which will be headed by the Chief, Classification Review Division, Office of Information Services.

c. During the fourth quarter of FY 1983 the Government Transportation Request (GTR) program, administered by the Audit and Certification Division, Office of Finance, realized savings of [redacted] issued. For FY 1983, savings totaled [redacted] issued. This represents an increase of 90 percent over FY 1982 savings and an increase of 54 percent in the number of GTRs used.

h. A bomb threat, targeted at an unspecified Agency facility in the Arlington, Virginia, area was recently received at the Agency switchboard from an individual who alleged to be a member of the "Peoples' Liberation Army." Immediately thereafter, the Office of Current Production and Analytical Support watch office received a call from the Washington Post advising that they were in receipt of similar information which included a bomb at the White House. Members of the Security Duty Office, the Arlington Police and Fire Departments, and the Federal Protective Service conducted detailed exterior and interior searches of the Ames, Key and Chamber of Commerce buildings. No evidence of a bomb was found.
